

THE NEW J. P. MORGAN GOES TO WORK ON A YACHT—WIFE GOES A-SHOPPING

The most recent picture of J. P. Morgan, the head of the great house of Morgan, is seen in this photograph with his wife, who was Jane N. Crew before her marriage. Morgan makes daily trips to business from his summer home, Central Island, Oyster Bay, L. I., aboard his steam yacht Mermaid. The yacht is usually anchored off the New York Yacht Club station at 23rd street and East river. On many of these daily excursions to business Mrs. Morgan accompanies her husband to the city, where they are met by an automobile. Mrs. Morgan does her shopping and makes calls, returning with her husband in the evening.

BABE IN THE WOOD

It was a timber law case, in which Tim Healy was counsel for the defense. In the course of the case a youthful witness was put up as an expert on the plaintiff's side. Tim got up to cross-examine.

"What age are you?"

"Twenty-one years."

"How long have you been in the timber trade?"

"Two years."

Tim sat down, saying, "A regular babe in the wood, my lord," which discounted the evidence of the youthful expert.

So, Lobbyist Mulhall purchased six cocktails at once "for a western governor," hey? Ha! 'Tis in Missouri that they order their drinks set out in rows six or eight deep!
